Many people choose to honor their loved ones with a memorial that serves as a lasting tribute to them. With a wide range of granite and memorial designs available, it is important to choose carefully.

The loss of a loved one can be very distressing, so it is logical not to rush into a decision that may later be regretted. Once the decision is ready to be made, the art of sandblast carving may be the avenue chosen to memorialize a loved one. Sandblast carving is a very traditional art resulting in a beautiful monument that will withstand the test of time. The "FMC Sandcraft" carvings are known for their superior detail and beauty and are considered the industry standard by which all other are measured.
